1.0 Introduction

Rural & Urban Community Initiative Support Organization (RUCISO) is a non-governmental, not for profit women's rights organization in Kenya. RUCISO was founded and registered in 2007 under NGO Coordination Board. RUCISO's main concern is lack of social, political and economic empowerment of women, leading to a vicious cycle of poverty among women and their families in urban slums and rural areas. We believe in the full realization of rights as a prerequisite and a driver for poverty eradication, sustainable development and economic growth as well as peaceful and inclusive societies.

RUCISO Kenya supports the post-2015 Development agenda (UN Agenda 2030, Agenda 2063 as adopted by African Union, SDGs), CEDAW, Beijing Platform for Action, Vision 2030 among other national and international human rights instruments in transforming the lives of women and youth to enable them reach their full potential.

RUCISO Kenya envisions "A just and peaceful society where women & girls are free from violence & poverty and enjoy their rights." In realization of her vision, RUCISO Kenya empowers the vulnerable and marginalized groups in Kenya to claim and realize their constitutional rights'
